NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a complaint for damages arising out of the unlawful conduct of PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK – a Palestinian bank headquartered in Ramallah-al-Bireh, in the Palestinian Territories.

2. As set forth below, Saddam Hussein’s regime in Iraq conspired with its Palestinian proxy, the Arab Liberation Front (“ALF”); the ALF’s Palestinian leader, Rakad Salem; Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK; and other co-conspirators, to incentivize and reward suicide attacks on civilians (including U.S. nationals) in Israel between September 2001 and March 2003 (the “relevant period”).

3. In furtherance of the conspiracy, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knowingly provided substantial and essential benefits, money and financial services on behalf of the Government of Iraq¹ to the families and beneficiaries of terrorists who killed, maimed and injured civilians during the relevant period, or attempted to do so.

4. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK thereby also provided material support to Foreign Terrorist Organizations (“FTOs”) (as that term is defined in 8 U.S.C. § 1189 of the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (“AEDPA”)) in order to facilitate acts of international terrorism as defined by 18 U.S.C. § 2331 of the Anti-Terrorism Act (“ATA”); and specifically aided and abetted the FTO Islamic Resistance Movement (“HAMAS”) by providing financial services to the Holy Land Foundation (“HLF”), knowing that HLF was, at the time, HAMAS’s premier U.S.-based fundraising organization.

5. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK served as the conduit for Saddam Hussein’s regime in Iraq to channel millions of U.S. dollars to Saddam’s Iraqi Ba’ath surrogate in Ramallah, the ALF.

6. The Government of Iraq transferred more than $9.5 million U.S. dollars to one or more accounts at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK between early October 2000 and the beginning of 2002 alone.

7. With Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK’s agreement and significant assistance, Saddam Hussein and the ALF established a program to reward the families of Palestinian suicide bombers and suicide gunmen.

8. These rewards incentivized and encouraged potential terrorists to commit attacks and made the attacks substantially more likely to occur.

9. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also maintained a U.S. dollar-denominated account for HLF in Ramallah and both received funds from HLF’s offices in the United States and transferred funds on behalf of HLF’s Palestinian offices.

10. HLF was a HAMAS fundraising institution established in Richardson, Texas, to funnel donations from the United States to HAMAS, particularly in the Palestinian Territories.

11. The U.S. Treasury Department designated HLF a Specially Designated Global

Terrorist (“SDGT”) in December 2001 for supporting HAMAS’s acts of terrorism.

12. HLF and several of its directors were indicted in 2004 for providing material support to HAMAS and convicted by a federal jury in 2008. The Fifth Circuit upheld the convictions in 2011.

13. By these aforementioned acts, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK committed acts of international terrorism, violating the prohibitions on providing material support to terrorists and FTOs set forth in the ATA as amended by the AEDPA (see, e.g., 18 U.S.C. §§ 2339A, 2339B), resulting in the killing, attempted killing and maiming of scores of American citizens in Israel and the Palestinian Territories during the relevant period during the Second Intifada,² including Plaintiffs, and is civilly liable under § 2333(a) of the ATA to those American citizens (and their estates, survivors and heirs) who have been killed or injured in their person by reason of such acts of international terrorism and foreseeable terrorist attacks.

14. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also aided and abetted HAMAS, Palestinian Islamic Jihad (“PIJ”), the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (“PFLP”) and the Al Aqsa Martyrs Brigade (“AAMB”) – all designated FTOs – by knowingly providing substantial assistance to each of these entities in the form of substantial financial incentives to reward their most murderous operatives.

15. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was fully aware of these Foreign Terrorist Organizations’ respective terrorist conduct and Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK’s own significant and integral role in facilitating the terrorist attacks the FTOs committed by making large U.S. dollar-denominated rewards available to the families of these operatives.

16. Accordingly, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK is civilly liable under 18 U.S.C. § 2333(d) of the ATA to those American citizens (and their estates, survivors and heirs) who have been killed or injured in their person by reason of such acts of international terrorism perpetrated by those FTOs at the time each of them was designated.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 18 U.S.C. §§ 2333 and 2338 as a civil action brought by citizens of the United States who have been killed or injured by reason of acts of international terrorism, and their estates, survivors, and heirs.

18. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and (d) and 18 U.S.C. § 2334(a).

19. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK is subject to personal jurisdiction in the State of New York pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2334(a), CPLR § 302, and Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(k)(1)-(2) because it has transacted business itself and through its agents during the relevant period and committed tortious acts within the United States during the relevant period by facilitating transfers of funds through the United States for the benefit of HAMAS and the families and beneficiaries of suicide bombers and suicide gunmen dispatched by the FTOs HAMAS, PIJ, PFLP and AAMB and has purposefully availed itself of New York's financial and legal system, as well as that of the United States as a whole, in the course of committing the wrongful acts alleged herein.

20. During the relevant period, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK chose to maintain U.S. dollar-denominated accounts in the Palestinian Territories and purposefully and knowingly directed its agents to use correspondent bank accounts in New York, particularly at Chase Manhattan Bank (via Arab Jordan Investment Bank ("AJIB")) and Bank of New York (via the Palestinian Monetary Authority (“PMA”),³ Arab Bank Plc, and Palestine International Bank), to facilitate a large volume of U.S. dollar-denominated funds transfers on behalf of HLF; the Government of Iraq; the ALF and its Palestinian leader, Rakad Salem;⁴ and the four FTO terrorist groups at issue.

21. For example, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided the ALF and Rakad Salem with U.S. dollar-denominated accounts and permitted them to issue checks against these accounts – ranging in value from $10,000 to $25,000 U.S. dollars – for the benefit of families of suicide terrorists, knowing that those U.S. dollar-denominated checks would, in most cases, be processed via the PMA’s clearinghouse in the Palestinian Territories and its correspondent interbank account in New York⁵ and ultimately settled through a combination of counterparty correspondent interbank accounts at other U.S. banks, the Clearing House Interbank Payments System (“CHIPS”) and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

THE PARTIES

A. The Plaintiffs

1. THE BEN YEHUDA STREET BOMBINGS – DECEMBER 1, 2001

22. In the late evening of December 1, 2001, Nabil Halabiya and Osama Bahar, two

HAMAS suicide bombers, blew themselves up in a pedestrian mall in Jerusalem as part of a coordinated double suicide bombing. A large quantity of nails was packed with each of the bombs. Eleven people were killed, and 188 people were injured.

The Spetner Family

24. Plaintiff Temima Spetner is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Missouri.

25. On December 1, 2001, Temima was walking down the pedestrian mall in Jerusalem when one of the suicide bombers detonated his explosives approximately 10 yards from where she was standing. Temima was hit by shrapnel on her arms and fingers. While bleeding heavily, and with clothing soaked in blood, Temima began running up the walkway and fell. Someone came to her aid and attempted to stop the bleeding until ambulances arrived at the scene.

26. As a result of the attack, the femoral artery of Temima's right leg was severed. She was transported to the hospital where doctors operated on her to stop the bleeding. The following day it was determined that Temima's intestines had been punctured by shrapnel, and she underwent another operation to repair her intestines and remove most of the shrapnel. Temima remained in the hospital for ten days.

27. There is significant scarring on Temima's thigh and the lower part of her abdomen. She continues to experience numbness in her right leg and is highly sensitive to pain in that leg.

33. When he got up the second time he felt numb. Jason saw his left arm dangling back and forth and held it because he thought it might fall off. When he began running up the street for help, he felt a sharp pain in his leg and back.

34. Jason was taken to Shaare Zedek Hospital in Jerusalem where he underwent two operations. Surgeons removed 8 metal bolts from his arm, leg and back.

35. Jason had to undergo several months of physical therapy for the injuries to his arm, leg and back. He still has scarring where he was branded by the bolts that penetrated his skin.

36. As a result of the attack, Plaintiff Jason Kirschenbaum has sustained severe physical injuries and experienced severe mental anguish and extreme emotional distress.

The Miller Family

53. Plaintiff Netanel Miller is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel.

54. On the evening of December 1, 2001, Netanel was with friends enjoying ice cream at the pedestrian mall in Jerusalem when one of the HAMAS suicide bombers detonated his explosives a few feet from him. Netanel had his back to the bomber, and he was thrown to the ground as a result of the explosion.

55. A nut from the bomb lodged in the upper part of Netanel's leg. Other nuts hit him in the back, resulting in burns. His hand and knee were also injured.

56. Netanel, in shock and unaware of the severity of his injuries, attempted to walk home, limping on his injured leg. After walking approximately 30 feet, Netanel collapsed on the sidewalk. Only then did Netanel become aware of how much he was bleeding from the wounds he had sustained in his leg. His attempts to use pressure to stop the bleeding were unsuccessful.

57. Some people stopped to help him, and Netanel handed them his cellular phone, asking them to call his parents, Arie and Chaya Miller. Netanel spoke to his father, who had been an Army medic. Arie asked Netanel specific questions about his condition and insisted Netanel seek medical help.

58. Ultimately, Netanel was taken to Shaare Zedek Hospital by ambulance. Since Netanel had lost a great deal of blood, he was given a blood transfusion.

59. Arie came to the hospital. Chaya arrived an hour or so later after she found someone to stay with her other children at her home.

60. Netanel was admitted to the hospital and remained there for two days.

61. Netanel endured the pain in his leg for nearly two years.

62. The pain in Netanel's leg became so severe that he had to undergo surgery, and the nut that was still lodged in his leg was finally removed.

63. It is still painful for Netanel to hike, an activity that he has always enjoyed.

64. Netanel had flashbacks as a result of the attack and underwent psychological counseling.

65. As a result of the attack, Plaintiff Netanel Miller has sustained severe physical injuries and experienced severe mental anguish and extreme emotional distress.

69. Plaintiff Aharon Miller is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel. He is the brother of Plaintiff Netanel Miller.

70. Plaintiff Shani Miller is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel. She is a sister of Plaintiff Netanel Miller.

The Steinherz Family

73. Plaintiff Altea Steinherz is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel.

74. Plaintiff Jonathan Steinherz is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel. He was the husband of Plaintiff Altea Steinherz at the time of the attack.

75. On December 1, 2001, Altea Steinherz was nine months pregnant. Altea and Jonathan were at a restaurant in Jerusalem when they heard a bomb explode nearby.

76. Altea wanted to get home to her daughter who was with a babysitter at the time, but she knew that bombings in Israel were frequently followed by a second bomb intended to kill or injure people fleeing from the first bomb.

77. A short time later Altea and Jonathan heard another bomb explode. Believing the bombing was now over, they began to walk home.

78. While walking in the street, they saw a crazed-looking man run past them. Altea thought that he might have been the bomber and insisted that the couple turn around, away from the direction from which the man had come.

79. As they began to run, Altea fell twice, and she broke her left arm as a result of one of the falls.

80. She experienced severe pain in her arm after the attack and continued to experience pain for many years afterward.

81. Altea was afraid that, as a result of her falls, her pregnancy might have terminated.

82. Until her son, Yitzhak, was born 11 days later, Altea and Jonathan feared for the condition of their unborn child.

83. Altea became less self-confident and more fearful generally. She had sleeping difficulties and underwent psychological counseling.

84. Jonathan felt tremendous anxiety and stress, had significant difficulty sleeping, and underwent psychological counseling.

85. As a result of the attack, Plaintiff Altea Steinherz sustained physical injuries and experienced severe mental anguish and extreme emotional distress.

86. As a result of the attack, Plaintiff Jonathan Steinherz experienced severe mental anguish and extreme emotional distress.

87. Plaintiff Temima Steinherz is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Israel. She is the daughter of Plaintiffs Altea Steinherz and Jonathan Steinherz.

141. As a result of the explosion, Hillel was struck in the head by shrapnel and sustained nerve damage to his left eye, and a traumatic brain injury ("TBI"). His left eardrum was ruptured, necessitating an operation on that ear. The surgery was only partially successful, and he continues to suffer from hearing loss in his left ear. Hillel further suffered from impaired speech for a period of time.

142. To this day, shrapnel remains lodged in Hillel's brain, and it remains unclear whether the shrapnel will cause further injury to him in the future.

171. Shortly thereafter, Keren Shatsky's sister informed Bella that Keren had been located and had been sent to a hospital in Kfar Saba. At the time both Keren's sister and Bella thought Keren was injured, not deceased. At first, Steven believed his leg had been ruptured, but later realized that the pieces of flesh belonged to the bomber or another victim of the attack.

184. After the initial shock, Steven attempted to assist other victims, including Hillel Trattner and Ronit Trattner, and the paramedics that arrived on the scene. He personally witnessed the carnage and saw the bodies of dead girls and many maimed and injured survivors.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

I. THE SECOND INTIFADA

467. The Second Intifada (also called the "al-Quds" or "al-Aqsa Intifada"), which broke out in September 2000, was marked by spasms of extreme violence and almost unprecedented levels of terrorism perpetrated by Palestinian terrorists and directed primarily at Israeli civilians.

468. In the initial weeks of the Second Intifada, large demonstrations were organized in several Palestinian cities. During this period, a Palestinian mob in Ramallah attacked two off-duty Israeli army reservists, lynched them, and celebrated their deaths – with much of the scene captured on camera.

469. Soon thereafter, HAMAS, PIJ, the PFLP and the Palestinian Authority's ruling faction, Fatah, all launched attacks on Israeli civilian centers, military installations, vehicles, and civilians through suicide bombings, drive-by shootings, and rocket launchings. For instance, over the four years following the outbreak of the violence, HAMAS launched hundreds of terrorist attacks targeting civilians that resulted in the deaths and injury of hundreds of individuals, including numerous American citizens.

470. In total, these terrorist attacks killed over 1,000 Israelis, and left thousands severely wounded.

II. FOREIGN POWERS' SUPPORT FOR PALESTINIAN TERRORISM DURING THE SECOND INTIFADA

471. During the Second Intifada, Palestinian terrorist groups competed for their countrymen's adulation by recruiting and dispatching terrorists to murder as many Israeli civilians as possible, often deploying suicide bombers and suicide shooters who would open fire on a crowd and continue firing until they were gunned down by Israeli law enforcement.

472. The competition to support and gain credit for supporting what much of the Arab world regarded as heroic work was almost as fierce as the rivalries between Palestinian terrorist groups (often powered by the groups' different backers outside of the Palestinian Territories).

473. As part of the intra-Palestinian competition among terror groups, the State Sponsor of Terrorism Islamic Republic of Iran and its Lebanese terror proxy, Hezbollah, competed with Iraq's Saddam Hussein's Ba'athist regime, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other Arab states to lavish financial support on Palestinians “resisting occupation” – i.e., blowing up buses and cafes and committing other terrorist attacks in Israel on Israeli civilians, including American citizens.

474. Some of that financial support went to the Palestinian Authority (“PA”) and much of it went to HAMAS, PIJ and other terrorist groups; but the most ostentatious displays of support were made by sending large sums of money to the families of the terrorists who killed themselves or were killed during terrorist attacks – the so-called “martyrs” of the Second Intifada.

475. These payments, usually denominated in U.S. dollars, ranged from several hundred U.S. dollars to – in the case of some of the payments processed by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK that are at issue here – $25,000 U.S. dollars per family of a “martyr.”

476. Any of these payments constituted a vast sum of money in the Palestinian Territories. For instance, according to the World Bank, in 1999, prior to the outbreak of the Second Intifada, the Gross National Income (“GNI”) per capita in the PA was $1,730 U.S. dollars. By the end of 2003, the GNI per capita in the PA had fallen to $1,070 U.S. dollars.⁶

477. On or about October 16, 2000, the “Saudi Committee” was established as a private charity registered with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

478. The Saudi Committee stated that its purpose was to support the “Intifada Al Quds” and “all suffering families – the families of the martyrs and the injured Palestinians and the disabled.”

479. The Saudi Committee also established a website to promote its activities.

480. The website was later revamped, and the Saudi Committee’s name removed from the English language version of the website.

481. However, even the sanitized English version of the website stated that the Saudi

⁶ The economic situation in the neighboring Arab countries, in terms of GNI, was even worse. Syria’s GNI, for example, was $890 U.S. dollars; Egypt’s GNI was $1,290 U.S. dollars; and Jordan’s GNI was $1,650 U.S. dollars.

Committee's activities include: "support of the families of martyrs and wounded, as well as the handicapped, orphans and prisoners, as well as homeowners whose houses were destroyed and landowners whose land was bulldozed, as well as support of a number of Palestinian social institutions and sponsorship of needy families ..."

482. The Saudi Committee provided a comprehensive "insurance" benefit or "martyr" payment of approximately $5,316 U.S. dollars to the families of Palestinian terrorists who died in the course of the Second Intifada.

483. The Saudi Committee also made a payment of approximately $1,325 U.S. dollars to terrorists who were injured by Israeli security forces.

484. Terrorists who were captured as a result of their criminal conduct received a payment of approximately $2,655 U.S. dollars from the Saudi Committee.

485. During the Second Intifada, the Saudi Committee provided a total of approximately $8 million U.S. dollars as benefits to the families of the so-called "martyrs," which included the families of suicide bombers and individuals killed by Israeli forces during the commission or attempted commission of terrorist acts.

486. The Lebanon-based Shahid Foundation (a/k/a Martyrs Foundation), which was funded by Iran and operated by Hezbollah, coordinated its activities in the Palestinian Territories with the Gaza-based al-Ansar society.⁷

487. The Shahid Foundation in Lebanon was designated an SDGT by the U.S. Government on July 24, 2007.

488. The U.S. Treasury Department noted at that time that the Shahid Foundation provided funding to, among others, Palestinian suicide bombers:

⁷ Al-Ansar was designated an "illegal association" in Israel on October 24, 2003.

The Martyrs Foundation is an Iranian parastatal organization that channels financial support from Iran to several terrorist organizations in the Levant, including Hizballah, Hamas, and the Palestinian Islamic Jihad (PIJ). To this end, the Martyrs Foundation established branches in Lebanon staffed by leaders and members of these same terrorist groups. Martyrs Foundation branches in Lebanon has also provided financial support to the families of killed or imprisoned Hizballah and PIJ members, including suicide bombers in the Palestinian territories.

489. The Shahid Foundation in Lebanon used the al-Ansar Society to distribute martyr payments on Iran's behalf.

490. On its website, al-Ansar expressed its goals as explicitly supporting "martyrdom":

Al-Ansar opens its doors to the families of martyrs who seek it in order to register their martyrs, who, with their noble blood, have watered the pure soil of Palestine, drawing thereby the features and portrait of the coming freedom and the coming dawn. Al-Ansar follows their path and shares with their families and their parents the grief, the burden and the hope.

491. Facing stiff competition from his regional rivals, Saddam Hussein was determined not to be outdone.

492. Estimates vary, but from the beginning of the Second Intifada until March 2002, Iraq transferred approximately $12 million U.S. dollars to the families of terrorists in the Palestinian Territories. Within a year, that estimate rose to more than $20 million U.S. dollars; according to the ALF, Saddam ultimately paid more than $35 million U.S. dollars to families of Palestinians killed or wounded during the Second Intifada.

493. While Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also processed payments on behalf of the ALF to the families of those who died by means other than suicide attack (see below), the wounded,⁸ and those whose houses were destroyed as a deterrent by Israel, the most prominent recipients of the bank's U.S. dollar-denominated payments were the families of suicide terrorists.

⁸ Saddam Hussein paid $1,000 to those wounded in the conflict.

494. In order to encourage suicide attacks and enhance Saddam Hussein's association with this widely respected form of violence, the Iraqi regime instituted its own "martyr payment" system.

495. Saddam Hussein's system, unlike the "martyr payment" systems of other Arab states (or Hezbollah), linked the amount of payment to the circumstances in which the terrorist at issue died.

496. At first – from October 2000 until August 2001 – Iraq had no clear stated policy distinguishing between "ordinary" terrorists killed during the conflict and suicide terrorists.

497. Every family of a dead Palestinian terrorist received $10,000 U.S. dollars, regardless of the circumstances.

498. For example, the family of HAMAS suicide bomber Hamed Faleh Mustafa Abu Hijla, who blew himself up in a car bombing on January 1, 2001, received a $10,000 U.S. dollar payment for his suicide attack.

499. In August 2001, Saddam Hussein decided to increase the sum of the financial grant transferred to the families of suicide terrorists (whether by bombing or mass shooting) from $10,000 to $15,000 U.S. dollars, whereas the payment for families of terrorists who died under less "heroic" circumstances remained at $10,000 U.S. dollars. Less heroic circumstances might include, for instance, what Palestinian terrorist groups call "work accidents" – premature detonations of explosives – or in fire fights with Israeli forces operating in the Palestinian Territories.

500. This decision was publicized in the Palestinian media.

501. For example, on August 15, 2001, one of the leading Palestinian daily newspapers, Al Hayat al-Jadida, reported on the benefit increase to the families of suicide terrorists from $10,000 to $15,000 U.S. dollars.

502. A few days later, another leading Palestinian daily newspaper, Al Quds, reported Saddam Hussein's decision to increase the value of his government's incentive payments to the families of Palestinian suicide terrorists:

The Gaza representative of the Arab Socialist Ba'ath party, which rules Iraq, announced yesterday that president Saddam Hussein decided to allocate the sum of $15,000 for each Palestinian martyr's family....

Al-Za'anin [the Gaza representative] clarified that the last decision by the Iraqi president to increase the grant given to Palestinians who carried out martyrdom attacks ("Amaliyat Istishadiya") to $15,000 comes to emphasize the continuation of the national struggle to restore the Palestinian rights.

503. The families of Palestinian terrorists who died in suicide attacks did in fact begin receiving larger payments for successful suicide attacks on Israeli civilians.

504. For instance, the family of AAMB operative Nazir Muhammad Mahmud Hamad, who launched a shooting attack at the Afula Central Bus Station on October 4, 2001, received a $15,000 U.S. dollar payment; the family of PIJ operative Nidal Ibrahim Mustafa Abu Shaduf, who committed a suicide attack in the Binyamina train station near Haifa in July 16, 2001, also received a payment of $15,000 U.S. dollars.

505. Families of terrorists who died under other circumstances, however, continued receiving $10,000 U.S. dollars each.

506. For instance, the family of PFLP operative Ayman Muhammad Fayiq Jalad, who died on October 24, 2001 in a clash in Tulkarem with Israeli security forces, received a check for $10,000 U.S. dollars in March 2002; the family of Khaled Subhi Ali Sanjaq, a Sergeant in the Palestinian Preventive Security Force and member of AAMB's "suicide bombers unit," was killed on December 2, 2001 during armed clashes with Israeli soldiers. His family received a $10,000 U.S. dollar payment.

507. On January 31, 2002, the Los Angeles Times reported that Saddam Hussein had ordered a memorial be erected in one of Baghdad's main squares in honor of the first Palestinian female suicide bomber, Wafa Idris, referenced earlier in this Complaint, who on January 27, 2002, blew herself up in Jerusalem, killing herself and an Israeli civilian and wounding dozens of people, including Plaintiffs herein.

508. Her family also received a U.S. dollar-denominated check from the ALF.

509. In March 2002, Saddam announced another increase in payments – families of suicide terrorists would receive $25,000 U.S. dollars, while the grants to the families of “ordinary” terrorists would remain at $10,000 U.S. dollars.

510. On occasion, the ALF would question the bona fides of a terrorist who died during a terrorist attack where the organization was not certain the terrorist intended to die.

511. For example, the family of AAMB operative Abd al-Karim Abu Na'isa, who died carrying out a lethal attack at the Afula central bus station on November 27, 2001, was initially denied an enhanced payment.

512. Saddam Hussein's goal was not only to support suicide attacks against civilians in Israel, but also to assert his leadership within the Arab world. Accordingly, these payments were usually accompanied by great fanfare and were covered in the Palestinian media (and were common knowledge to individuals and entities in the Palestinian Territories, such as Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK).

513. For example, on May 7, 2002, the Palestinian daily Al-Ayam reported on Saddam Hussein's payouts to the surviving families of dozens of Palestinian terrorists:

A delegation representing the Socialist Arab Ba'ath party and Arab Liberation Front yesterday distributed the Iraqi president, Saddam Hussein's grant to martyrs' families from Jenin Refugee Camp during a ceremony that was orchestrated in the Social Youth Center hall in the camp.

Senior member from the Party and the Front said that the families of 79 martyr families, who died as a result of the Occupation Forces' bullets, shells and missiles, were granted the sum of $10,000 to each family. At the same time, six families of martyrs who carried out martyrdom [suicide] attacks against Israeli targets were granted $25,000 each.

The ceremony took place in the presence of hundreds of the camp's residents, representatives from The Emergency and Relief Committee, the Socialist Arab Ba'ath party and the Arab Liberation Front. The Front's representatives conveyed the blessings of the Iraqi president and people to the masses of the Palestinian people and especially to the residents of the Jenin Refugee Camp. An ALF representative said that those residents defended the honor of their people and the honor of the Arab and Islamic nations.

514. These types of ceremonies – focused on incentivizing and glorifying terrorism – were commonplace during the relevant period and often involved family members of suicide terrorists receiving both certificates on behalf of Saddam Hussein as well as dollar-denominated checks issued from Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.⁹

515. For example, ceremonies in Gaza (Khan Yunis) held on July 20, 2002, August 28, 2002, March 20, 2003 and March 30, 2003 honored the families of “martyrs” – with the family members each being called up to the dais to receive both their certificates and their U.S. dollar-denominated checks, drawn on Rakad Salem's account at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

516. The events were also widely covered both in print and broadcast media around the world.

517. For example, on July 10, 2002, The New York Times reported that Iraq sent large cash payments, using U.S. dollar-denominated banknotes, to the families of Palestinian suicide bombers, further cementing Saddam's popularity among the Palestinians.

⁹ On occasion, the recipients would also deposit the payments back into their own accounts at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

518. In a March 13, 2003 article about what was likely the last payment ceremony before U.S. Forces invaded Iraq, the BBC reported: “‘Iraq and Palestine are in one trench. Saddam is a hero,’ read a banner over a picture of the Iraqi leader and Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat at the ceremony.”

519. The payments were well enough known that, according to an April 4, 2002 CBS article, ALF officer Mahmoud Safi said: “Some people stop me on the street, saying if you increase the payment to $50,000, I’ll do it immediately.” While he said the comments were made “mostly . . . in jest,” he “acknowledged that the support payments for relatives make it easier for some potential bombers to make up their minds.”

520. These payments were made to the family members of terrorists belonging to all Palestinian terror factions.

521. For example, Abd al-Mun’im Ahmad Midraj Daraghima, the father of Ahmad abd al-Mun’im Daraghima, a PIJ suicide bomber who blew himself up on an Israeli kibbutz on October 7, 2001, received a check for $15,000 U.S. dollars.

522. Fatima Ali Husein Halabiya, the mother of Nabil Mahmud Jamil Halabiya, the above-referenced HAMAS suicide bomber who blew himself up on Ben Yehuda Street in Jerusalem on December 1, 2001, also received a check for $15,000 drawn on Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK. Muhammad Ayd Husein Bahar, the father of Osama Muhammad Ayd Bahar, the other HAMAS suicide bomber who blew himself up on Ben Yehuda Street together with Halabiya, also received a check for $15,000 U.S. dollars drawn on Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK. See Exhibit A (including both the checks and receipts issued).

523. Similarly, the family of Hussein Hasan Muhammad Abu Nasr (a HAMAS operative) received $15,000 U.S. dollars during a ceremony reported in the Palestinian daily newspaper Al-Hayat al-Jadida on August 26, 2001.

524. In March 2002, Mahmud Ayada ‘Adi Salah al-Din, the father of Mu’ayed Mahmud Ayada Salah al-Din (a HAMAS operative), received a $25,000 U.S. dollar payment (as part of Saddam Hussein’s increased grant level for suicide terrorists).

525. Wafa Idris, whose family, as described above, received a check from the ALF, acted on behalf of the AAMB.

III. SADDAM HUSSEIN’S REGIME CONSPIRED WITH DEFENDANT PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK (AMONG OTHERS) TO LAUNDER OIL SALES PROCEEDS THROUGH NEW YORK AND CHANNEL SOME OF THAT MONEY TO FINANCE REWARD PAYMENTS TO THE FAMILIES OF PALESTINIAN TERRORISTS.

A. Saddam Hussein’s Regime Abused the Oil-for-Food Program to Transfer Funds Through New York That Were Illegally Diverted to Accounts at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

526. Because Iraq was a designated State Sponsor of Terrorism during the relevant period and was subject to strict economic sanctions, Saddam’s regime could not easily transfer large sums of money denominated in U.S. dollars since that would require dollar-clearing and settlement activity in the United States.

527. U.S. law prohibits most dollar clearing and settlement services performed on behalf of State Sponsors of Terrorism. In some cases involving the evasion of U.S. economic sanctions managed by the U.S. Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”), State Sponsors of Terrorism have relied on foreign banks willing to deceive U.S. regulators, such as by removing all information identifying the state as the source of a U.S. dollar-denominated electronic funds transfer through New York.

528. According to U.S. Congressional investigators, Saddam Hussein illegally diverted money from the U.N. oil-for-food program, meant to serve Iraq’s humanitarian needs, to make these payments.

529. Funds collected from Iraqi oil sales authorized by the U.N.'s oil-for-food program were processed exclusively from a U.N. account held at BNP Paribas's branch in New York.

530. As U.N. investigators would later learn, significant Iraqi oil sales revenues deposited in BNP's oil-for-food program account in New York were subsequently diverted through elaborate kickback schemes and secreted into accounts controlled by the Hussein regime.

531. These kickbacks allowed Saddam Hussein to maintain his grip on power and to transact regime business clandestinely despite severe restrictions imposed on Iraq's economy by U.N. and U.S. sanctions.

532. Because of Iraq's difficulty in transferring U.S. dollars through the global financial system, most of the money earmarked for Saddam's terror incentive program was syphoned from the oil-for-food program and covertly transferred from the head office of Iraq's state-owned Al-Rafidain Bank in Baghdad to its branch in Amman, Jordan.

533. From there, portions of the illicit U.S. dollar-denominated funds were deposited into Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's correspondent account at AJIB in Amman and then into Rakad Salem's account at the Al-Bireh branch of Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK in the Palestinian Territories.

534. Because the sums transferred were denominated in U.S. dollars (a/k/a Eurodollar payments),¹⁰ Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK used AJIB to clear and settle the transfers through New York – albeit without any of the financial institutions involved identifying the source of the funds as Saddam Hussein’s regime.

¹⁰ Eurodollar refers to a time- or call-deposit denominated in U.S. dollars that is maintained by a bank outside the United States. However, Eurodollar deposits in foreign banks operate differently than U.S. domestic deposits. For example, among others things, Eurodollar deposits maintained by foreign banks, first, are not regulated by the U.S. Federal Reserve; second, are not subject to U.S. banking reserve requirements; third, do not require payment of U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insurance premiums; and, fourth, involve payment transactions in the Eurodollar market that are not typically settled by the physical transfer from one counterparty to another of either U.S. dollar-denominated banknotes or a medium of exchange (coins or precious metals). Instead, although Eurodollar electronic funds transfers might be routed for clearing through New York or other global financial centers, these

535. Although Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was (and is) a relatively small financial institution and did not maintain its own correspondent bank account in New York, the bank chose to offer its customers in the Palestinian Territories the option of maintaining U.S. dollar-denominated accounts and it used AJIB as its agent to process U.S. dollar-denominated transfers (through New York) for its customers.

536. During the relevant period, AJIB’s only U.S. dollar-denominated correspondent accounts were two it held in New York: account number “544728163” at Chase Manhattan Bank (now JPMorgan Chase Bank) and account number “8900331283” at Bank of New York.¹¹

537. During the relevant period, AJIB marketed its respective correspondent accounts at Chase Manhattan Bank and Bank of New York in the Bankers’ Almanac (a reference book used by banks and others to identify other banks’ correspondent accounts) as a service for clearing and settling for U.S. dollar-denominated electronic funds transfers that it offered to other foreign banks like Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

538. At all times relevant to this Action, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew that it was providing substantial and essential assistance to a State Sponsor of Terrorism (Iraq), the ALF (an organization that had itself committed several terrorist attacks before the relevant period), HLF, and the terrorist groups recruiting future terrorists, and knew that it transactions are ultimately settled electronically in New York across the balance sheet of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (acting as the unofficial lender-of-last resort for foreign banks operating in the Eurodollar market – including Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK).

¹¹ AJIB might have been able to clear a limited number of low-value U.S. dollar-denominated transfers through its reserve account at the Central Bank of Jordan, but only for electronic funds transfers with other Jordanian commercial banks that also maintained reserve accounts at the Central Bank of Jordan.

constituted a vital mechanism for illegally transferring U.S. dollar-denominated funds for HLF (and therefore HAMAS) and from Saddam Hussein's regime through New York.

539. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also settled all checks drawn on Rakad Salem's account through correspondent accounts in New York.¹²

540. At all times relevant to this Action, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew that its U.S. dollar-denominated accounts were being used to finance and incentivize the maiming and mass murder of innocent civilians – including Plaintiffs – through the payments described above.

541. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also knew that the U.S. dollar-denominated checks drawn on its accounts were providing a benefit and incentive to operatives of at least four Palestinian terrorist organizations who were able to conduct their acts of terrorism secure in the knowledge that their families would be rewarded financially and would therefore benefit, rather than suffer, from their absence and lost earning potential.

B. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK Chose to Offer U.S. Dollar-Denominated Checking through New York Banks.

542. Because the PMA does not issue its own banknotes and coins denominated in a Palestinian currency, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK and certain other banks in the Palestinian Territories chose to offer checking accounts to their customers in other currencies.

543. During the relevant period, the largest volume and value of checks used for payment in the Palestinian Territories were denominated in New Israeli Shekels ("NIS").

544. For instance, in 2001, nearly 90 percent of checks processed by the PMA's clearinghouse were denominated in NIS – only 6 percent were denominated in U.S. dollars.

¹² The possible exception involved Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK customers who deposited checks drawn on the bank's own accounts.

545. Still, some Palestinian banks also chose to offer checking accounts denominated in U.S. dollars, Jordanian dinars and European Union euros.

546. For instance, because of Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's correspondent banking relationship with AJIB, both banks played a central role in settling the PMA's transactions involving funds transfers denominated in Jordanian dinars.

547. Specifically, during the relevant period, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK (and its agent AJIB) supported the PMA's clearing and settlement, through the Central Bank of Jordan, of all Jordanian dinar-denominated checks circulating in the Palestinian Territories (except for checks that were issued and deposited by respective customers at the same Palestinian bank).

548. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also chose to offer checking accounts denominated in U.S. dollars – including Rakad Salem's account for paying the families of terrorists.

549. As with wire transfers, foreign banks must “settle” U.S. dollar-denominated checks through a correspondent account at a bank capable of settling U.S. dollar transactions (or through an intermediate bank acting as the foreign bank's agent with a correspondent bank).

550. To reduce transaction costs, the PMA coordinated U.S. dollar-denominated check clearing and settlement for checks issued among (i.e., drawn on and deposited at) Palestinian commercial banks, including Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

551. Acting as the Palestinian banks' agent, the PMA settled U.S. dollar-denominated checks in New York using a combination of commercial correspondent interbank accounts at U.S.

banks, CHIPS¹³ and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

552. In order to reduce transaction costs, the PMA first “cleared” the checks by setting off countervailing debts among Palestinian banks created as a result of the PMA’s clearinghouse operations. Doing so resulted in fewer debts owed among the banks that required settling at the end of each day in New York (settling a U.S. dollar-denominated transaction generally incurs service fees from intermediaries such as SWIFT and CHIPS).¹⁴

553. The PMA then coordinated settlement of the balances owed among the Palestinian banks by using its correspondent account in New York.

554. As mentioned above, the PMA maintained a U.S. dollar-denominated correspondent interbank account at Arab Bank, Plc’s New York branch and subsequently, the Bank of New York (“BNY”) (through the PMA’s own bank, Palestine International Bank). The PMA used the Arab Bank and BNY accounts to transfer U.S. dollars among each of the member Palestinian banks’ own New York correspondent accounts¹⁵ in settlement of their net debts and credits from the PMA’s check clearing operations.¹⁶

555. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew that its U.S. dollar-denominated checks were settled in New York, and directly communicated with New York banks in relation to these transactions.

556. For example, in May 2005, as a result of U.S. dollar-denominated check clearing

¹³ CHIPS is a Systemically Important Financial Market Utility (“SIFMU”) for the U.S. financial system and the primary provider of clearing and settlement services in U.S. dollar-denominated funds for Eurodollar transactions.

¹⁵ The Central Bank of Jordan cannot settle a dollar-denominated transaction with BNY in New York. Only another New York bank with CHIPS and FedWire accounts – like JPMorgan Chase – can do so.

¹⁶ The PMA utilized Arab Bank, Plc until March 29, 2003 and thereafter moved this function to BNY.

operations performed by the PMA's clearinghouse on behalf of Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK and the other Palestinian banks, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK accrued a credit in the amount of $649,990 U.S. dollars.

557. This amount represented the net due to Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK based on U.S. dollar-denominated checks drawn on other banks in the Palestinian Territories that, first, were deposited by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's customers; second, provisionally credited by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK to their customers' respective U.S. dollar-denominated accounts at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK; third, presented by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK to the PMA's clearinghouse for payment; and, fourth, cleared and netted through the PMA's clearinghouse operations.

558. In order to coordinate the payment of the PMA's provisional credit due to Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK, the PMA issued a payment order to BNY in the amount of $649,990 U.S. dollars (for the ultimate benefit of Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK).

559. The PMA's payment order was designated for the benefit of AJIB's correspondent interbank account at JPMorgan Chase (account number "8900429755"), for further credit to Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's correspondent interbank account at AJIB in Amman, Jordan (account number "010207200617111").

560. However, on May 16, 2005, BNY blocked the payment order pursuant to restraining notices issued by a New York court to satisfy an ATA judgment against the PA.¹⁷

561. Demonstrating its knowledge and active role in U.S. dollar-denominated check

clearing and settlement, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK wrote to BNY directly on July 20, 2005 claiming the following about the blocked funds in New York:

On or about May 19th, 2005, we were made aware by the PMA that the transfer of the sum of 649,990.000 [sic] US dollars to be credited to our account with our own correspondent bank Arab Jordan Investment Bank had been blocked by [Bank of New York].

This is to conform [sic] that transfer order conveyed by [PMA's Palestine International Bank] to [Bank of New York] as stated above concern funds belonging exclusively and entirely to our bank and the transfer was being effected to facilitate normal banking transactions of our own clients.

See Exhibit B, annexed hereto (emphasis in original).

IV. DEFENDANT PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK MAINTAINED AN ACCOUNT AND TRANSFERRED MONEY FOR HAMAS'S U.S. FUNDRAISER, HOLY LAND FOUNDATION.

A. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK Provided Banking Services to Holy Land Foundation Knowing That It Was a HAMAS Institution.

562. In October 1993, less than one month after the public signing of the Oslo Accords,¹⁸ approximately 20 members of the so-called "Palestine Committee" in the United States gathered in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to discuss how to help HAMAS oppose the Oslo Accords.

563. The FBI learned of the Philadelphia meeting and obtained a warrant from the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court to monitor the meeting, which lasted approximately three days.

564. During the meeting, the participants discussed the problems that the Oslo Accords presented for those opposed to co-existence with Israel, and attendees were admonished not to mention "HAMAS," but rather to refer to it as "Samah," which is HAMAS spelled backwards.

¹⁸ The Oslo Accords were signed by Chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization ("PLO") Yasser Arafat and Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and his foreign minister, Shimon Peres, in Washington D.C. in September 1993. The agreement included Letters of Mutual Recognition, whereby the Israeli government recognized the PLO as the legitimate representative of the Palestinian people, while the PLO recognized the right of Israel to exist and purportedly renounced terrorism, violence and the desire for the destruction of Israel.

565. Attendees agreed that they must operate under an ostensible banner of apolitical humanitarian exercise in order to continue supporting HAMAS's vital social recruitment effort by financially supporting institutions, organizations and programs in the West Bank and Gaza controlled by HAMAS.

566. Attendees identified several charitable societies and zakat committees as "ours."

567. The Holy Land Foundation emerged from the Philadelphia meeting as the preeminent HAMAS fundraising organization in the United States.

568. On March 15, 1996, a feature article in The New York Times detailed the financing of HAMAS by so-called charitable organizations. The article specifically discussed Israeli government claims that Richardson, Texas-based HLF was a "key fundraising operation" for HAMAS and discussed HAMAS's social infrastructure.

569. On May 20, 1996, The Jerusalem Post reported on proceedings in the High Court of Justice resulting in a decree by the Israeli Government shutting down the Holy Land Foundation's Jerusalem office and authorizing confiscation of all its property.

570. On May 6, 1997, the Government of Israel designated HLF a HAMAS organization and declared that HLF "deals in the practice of transferring monies to families of HAMAS activists, who carried out deadly attacks"

571. During the relevant period, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK maintained one or more U.S. dollar-denominated accounts for HLF, including Account No. 41914 at one of the bank's branches in Ramallah.

572. HLF repeatedly transferred money from the United States to its offices in the Palestinian Territories using HLF's account at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

573. As described above, HLF's electronic funds transfers were routed from Texas to the Palestinian Territories via Chase Manhattan Bank, using the correspondent account of Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's agent, AJIB.

574. For instance, on August 23, 2001, HLF's Texas entity transferred $5,646 U.S. dollars from its account at BankOne in Richardson, Texas, to HLF's account at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK in Ramallah. A copy of this electronic funds transfer is attached as Exhibit C.

575. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK affirmatively directed HLF transfers through New York, which were habitually routed through AJIB's correspondent bank account at Chase Manhattan Bank in New York.

576. Because Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was neither on the SWIFT system nor advertising its correspondent accounts in the Bankers' Almanac at that time, and HLF funds transfers repeatedly reached Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's account for HLF in the same exact manner (as specifically described in each transaction message), HLF's offices in Texas likely provided its local bank with specific instructions identifying each bank in the chain to its account at Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK. See Exhibit C ("CHASE MANHATTAN BANK ... NEW YORK, NY"), the beneficiary's bank ("VIA CHASE MANHATTAN FFC [for further credit] ARAB JORDAN INVESTMENT BANK ... FFC PALESTINE INVESTMENT BK, BEERAH BR[ANCH] RAMALLAH ISRAEL") and the beneficiary's account ("41914 HOLYLAND FOUNDATION").

577. In order to consistently initiate U.S. dollar-denominated transfers with the same routing via CHIPS through Chase Manhattan Bank, SWIFT and AJIB, HLF's Ramallah office must have provided HLF in Texas with payment instructions they received from Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

B. The United States Designated the Holy Land Foundation an SDGT in 2001.

578. On December 4, 2001, HLF, a U.S.-based organization which provided millions of dollars to HAMAS, was designated an SDGT pursuant to Executive Order 13224 and a Specially Designated Terrorist (“SDT”) under Executive Order 12947. HLF’s designation was accompanied by an order blocking all its assets.

579. The U.S. Treasury Press Release announcing HLF’s designation stated, inter alia:

- The Holy Land Foundation for Relief and Development, headquartered in Richardson, Texas, raises millions of dollars annually that is used by HAMAS. Last year, Holy Land raised over $13 million.
- Holy Land supports HAMAS activities through direct fund transfers to its offices in the West Bank and Gaza that are affiliated with HAMAS and transfers of funds to Islamic charity committees (“zakat committees”) and other charitable organizations that are part of HAMAS or controlled by HAMAS members.

580. According to the press release, “[t]he Holy Land Foundation masquerades as a charity, while its primary purpose is to fund Hamas. This is not a case of one bad actor stealing from the petty cash drawer and giving those stolen monies to terrorists. This organization exists to raise money in the United States to promote terror.”

581. These findings were in part the product of an extensive FBI investigation that culminated in what has come to be referred to as the “Watson Memorandum” – named after former FBI official Dale Watson.

582. The FBI report observed that HLF was providing material support to HAMAS through various zakat committees that were nominally operating as social service organizations in the Palestinian Territories:

It is the FBI’s analysis that the zakat committees receiving HLF’s [Holy Land Foundation] financial support are controlled by HAMAS. GOI [Government of Israel] analysis has also determined that HAMAS activists have been elected or appointed to senior leadership positions on these zakat committees. GOI analysis, as well as open source reporting, has identified that the civilian population is aware that the services being provided by the zakat committees, whether it's the distribution of food, medical services or other social services, are being provided by HAMAS.

583. These large deposits were then often translated into checks written by HLF in the Palestinian Territories to HAMAS *da'wa*¹⁹ institutions in smaller increments.

IV. THE TERRORIST GROUPS RECEIVING SUPPORT FROM DEFENDANT PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK AND THEIR DESIGNATIONS

A. HAMAS

584. HAMAS is a Palestinian terrorist group headquartered in Gaza. It has committed hundreds of terrorist attacks since its founding in 1987, targeting, killing and injuring hundreds of Israelis and Americans, primarily civilians.

585. On January 23, 1995, pursuant to Executive Order 12947, President Clinton designated HAMAS an SDT.

586. This designation made it illegal for any United States person or entity to engage in any unlicensed transactions or dealings involving the property or interests of HAMAS.

587. HAMAS's designation as an SDT has remained in place since January 23, 1995.

588. On October 8, 1997, pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1189 and by publication in the Federal Register, the United States Secretary of State designated HAMAS an FTO.

589. As a result of this designation, it became illegal for any person within the United States or subject to its jurisdiction to provide material support or resources to HAMAS.

¹⁹ Da'wa refers herein to a network of social and political institutions HAMAS operates consisting of mosques, hospitals, religious schools, clinics and other institutions that form the movement's political base in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. These institutions raise substantial funds for HAMAS's political and operational terrorist infrastructure and free up (fungible) money to plan and perpetrate suicide bombings and other terrorist attacks. They also provide income streams to HAMAS operatives, assist HAMAS in recruiting new supporters, generate and disseminate HAMAS propaganda, and compete with the PA in delivering social services and facilitating payments (including "martyr" payments) to families of HAMAS operatives killed, injured or imprisoned as a result of their terrorist activities.

590. HAMAS's designation as an FTO has remained in place since October 8, 1997.

591. On October 31, 2001, pursuant to Executive Order 13224, President George W. Bush designated HAMAS an SDGT.

592. HAMAS's designation as an SDGT has remained in place since October 31, 2001.

B. PIJ

593. PIJ is an international terrorist organization with "cells" or units located throughout the world.

594. PIJ has committed numerous terrorist attacks, including several that have killed and injured American citizens.

595. On January 23, 1995, pursuant to Executive Order 12947, President Clinton designated PIJ an SDT.

596. This designation made it illegal for any United States person or entity to engage in any unlicensed transactions or dealings involving the property or interests of PIJ.

597. PIJ's designation as an SDT has remained in place since January 23, 1995.

598. On October 8, 1997, pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1189 and by publication in the Federal Register, the United States Secretary of State designated PIJ an FTO.

599. As a result of this designation, it became illegal for any person within the United States or subject to its jurisdiction to provide material support or resources to PIJ.

600. PIJ's designation as an FTO has remained in place since October 8, 1997.

601. On October 31, 2001, pursuant to Executive Order 13224, President George W. Bush designated PIJ an SDGT.

602. PIJ's designation as an SDGT has remained in place since October 31, 2001.

C. PFLP

603. PFLP is a secular, Marxist-Leninist international terrorist group that has committed terrorist attacks around the world.

604. On January 23, 1995, pursuant to Executive Order 12947, President Clinton designated PFLP an SDT.

605. This designation made it illegal for any United States person or entity to engage in any unlicensed transactions or dealings involving the property or interests of PFLP.

606. PFLP's designation as an SDT has remained in place since January 23, 1995.

607. On October 8, 1997, pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1189 and by publication in the Federal Register, the United States Secretary of State designated PFLP an FTO.

608. As a result of this designation, it became illegal for any person within the United States or subject to its jurisdiction to provide material support or resources to PFLP.

609. PFLP's designation as an FTO has remained in place since October 8, 1997.

610. On October 31, 2001, pursuant to Executive Order 13224, President George W. Bush designated PFLP an SDGT.

611. PFLP's designation as an SDGT has remained in place since October 31, 2001.

D. AAMB

612. AAMB is a Palestinian terrorist group affiliated with the Palestinian political party Fatah.

613. AAMB has committed numerous terrorist attacks, including several that have killed and injured American citizens.

614. On March 27, 2002, pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1189 and by publication in the Federal Register, the United States Secretary of State designated AAMB an FTO.

615. AAMB was also designated an SDT and SDGT on that date.

616. AAMB's designations as an FTO, SDT and SDGT have remained in place since March 27, 2002.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

LIABILITY PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) FOR CONSPIRING TO VIOLATE
18 U.S.C. § 2339A ("PRIMARY LIABILITY")

617. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

618. Saddam Hussein's regime in Iraq conspired with the ALF; its Palestinian leader, Rakad Salem; Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK; and other co-conspirators, to incentivize and reward suicide attacks on civilians (including U.S. citizens) in Israel during the relevant period.

619. To effectuate the conspiracy, the Hussein regime illegally laundered U.S. dollar-denominated funds from the oil-for-food program's account at BNP Paribas in New York and deposited them in regime-controlled accounts in Jordan before transferring them to Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

620. At all relevant times, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew the aims of the conspiracy and actively participated in furthering the conspiracy's objectives.

621. These objectives included, among others, incentivizing Palestinians to commit terrorist attacks against civilians in Israel by providing U.S. dollar-denominated checks to injured or imprisoned terrorist operatives and to families of deceased terrorist operatives, with larger payments made to the most committed and successful suicide terrorists.

622. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knowingly accepted U.S. dollar-denominated assets from Iraqi regime-controlled banks in Amman and transferred those assets to Rakad Salem's account with the bank in Ramallah.

623. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew that Rakad Salem was distributing and providing the U.S. dollar-denominated checks drawn on his account with Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK to terrorist operatives and their families.

624. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew Rakad Salem was the well-known leader of the ALF, a group well-known for its financial support for terrorist operatives and for distributing checks with certificates describing their purpose in events widely covered by the local and international media.

625. For the same reasons, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew and agreed to serve as the mechanism by which Saddam Hussein's regime in Iraq made U.S. dollar-denominated payments to reward and incentivize suicide terrorist attacks.

626. As a foreseeable consequence of, and in furtherance of, the conspiracy, HAMAS, PIJ, PFLP, and AAMB operatives committed terrorist attacks against civilians in Israel, including the attacks at issue.

627. Plaintiffs were injured in those attacks.

628. By conspiring to provide material support in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A that caused each Plaintiff to be injured in his or her person, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK committed acts of international terrorism as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 2331 and is liable pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) because its conduct involved acts dangerous to human life that were a violation of the criminal laws of the United States, and in so doing Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's conduct objectively appeared to be intended to intimidate or coerce the civilian population of Israel and influence the policy of the Israeli and American governments by intimidation or coercion, and its activities transcended national boundaries in terms of the means by which they were accomplished.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

LIABILITY PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) FOR KNOWINGLY PROVIDING MATERIAL SUPPORT IN VIOLATION OF
18 U.S.C. § 2339A (“PRIMARY LIABILITY”)

629. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

630. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided extraordinary and essential financial services to terrorists and their families including funneling illicit Iraqi payments in U.S. dollar-denominated funds through New York to the Palestinian Territories and making those funds available to the families of suicide terrorists – knowing that the financial support it facilitated would be used in preparation for, or in carrying out, numerous acts of international terrorism which caused direct injury to Plaintiffs.

631. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK’s knowing support was a substantial and foreseeable factor in causing Plaintiffs’ injuries.

632. As set forth more fully above, by providing critical financial services for Saddam Hussein’s funding of the ALF payment program for the families of terrorists, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided material support for acts of terrorism set forth in this Complaint.

633. The U.S. dollar-denominated payments Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK facilitated, glorified, encouraged and incentivized Palestinian terrorists to commit terrorist attacks of the kind that injured Plaintiffs and rewarded them by paying their families even greater sums if they forfeited their lives in the commission of these acts of terrorism.

634. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK’s facilitation of U.S. dollardenominated payments provided moral support to the terrorists who injured (or murdered) Plaintiffs, and Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK understood its role in the incentive scheme and knew that terrorists were aware of the scheme and that their respective families did, and would, benefit from Defendant's participation in the terrorism incentive plan.

635. The nature of the acts encouraged by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's conduct were extreme and shock the conscience of any civilized society. The amount and duration of material support given by Defendant was substantial, and Defendant, through the dozens of ceremonies in which the ALF officials ritually presented checks drawn on Defendant's accounts, was continually present for the encouragement, exhortation and glorification of mass murder and the maiming of innocent civilians – including Plaintiffs.

636. By providing material support in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A that has caused each Plaintiff to be injured in his or her person, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK committed acts of international terrorism as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 2331 and is liable pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) because its conduct involved acts dangerous to human life that were a violation of the criminal laws of the United States, and in so doing Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's conduct objectively appeared to be intended to intimidate or coerce the civilian population of Israel and influence the policy of the Israeli and American governments by intimidation or coercion, and its activities transcended national boundaries in terms of the means by which they were accomplished.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

AIDING AND ABETTING FOREIGN TERRORIST ORGANIZATIONS IN VIOLATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 2333(d) ("SECONDARY LIABILITY")

637. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

638. Plaintiffs listed in Attacks No. 1 through 9 were injured by acts of international terrorism as defined by 18 U.S.C. § 2331 that were committed, planned and authorized by an FTO so designated at the time each act of terrorism at issue occurred.

639. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided substantial assistance to HAMAS, PIJ, PFLP and AAMB by transferring significant sums of money to the families of their operatives.

640. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was fully aware of the terroristic nature of the conduct of each of these designated FTOs, including their campaigns of suicide bombings and other acts of terrorism.

641. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK's own actions substantially assisted the FTOs by making large financial rewards available to the families of these terrorist organizations' operatives, and its conduct foreseeably aided them in committing acts of terrorism of the kind that injured Plaintiffs.

642. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK understood the value and importance to designated FTOs, Saddam Hussein's regime in Iraq, and Palestinian terrorists and their families of the bank's role in facilitating large transfers of U.S. dollar-denominated funds to the Palestinian Territories from Iraq and providing a mechanism to make those funds available to the families of deceased terrorists who committed acts of terrorism.

643. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK also substantially assisted HAMAS by maintaining at least one U.S. dollar-denominated account for HLF and assisting HLF, at the time HAMAS's premier U.S.-based fundraising arm and (later an) SDGT, transfer donations from the United States to HAMAS and its institutions in the Palestinian Territories.

644. In light of repeated contemporaneous press reports linking HLF to HAMAS and the Israeli government's designations of HLF for the same reason, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK clearly also understood the value and importance to HAMAS of the bank's role in facilitating HLF's transfers of donations to HAMAS institutions.

645. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was thus generally aware of its role as part of the overall illegal and tortious activity of the FTOs, the ALF, HLF, and Iraq.

646. Plaintiffs allege that Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knowingly aided and abetted HAMAS, PIJ, PFLP and AAMB and the specific FTO operatives who injured or killed Plaintiffs herein within the meaning of 18 U.S.C. § 2333(d) and within the legal framework of Halberstam v. Welch, 705 F.2d 472 (D.C. Cir. 1983), which Congress has found to provide "civil litigants with the broadest possible basis" for relief against those "that have provided material support, directly or indirectly, to foreign organizations or persons that engage in terrorist activities against the United States." See Justice Against Sponsors of Terrorism Act ("JASTA"), § 2(b).

647. During the relevant period, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided substantial assistance to HAMAS by providing critical and essential banking services to HLF, its U.S.-based fundraising arm.

648. During the relevant period, Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided substantial assistance to Saddam Hussein's regime (then a designated State Sponsor of Terrorism) and to each of the FTOs described above by facilitating payments to the families of FTO operatives and rewarding them for their relatives' acts of terrorism.

649. The nature of the acts encouraged, which were acts of international terrorism, benefited from access to millions of U.S. dollars provided by Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK.

650. The amount of assistance Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK provided – millions of U.S. dollars in a community where incomes are a fraction of those in the U.S. – was integral to the acts of terrorism at issue.

651. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK was present in the Palestinian Territories, where the terrorist groups at issue often operated openly, where HAMAS institutions received HLF donations through the bank, and where events adulating so-called “martyrs” were frequent sights and subjects of extensive media coverage, including martyr payment ceremonies. Many terrorist leaders and “martyrs” were, and remain, local celebrities.

652. Defendant PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK knew Saddam Hussein’s and the terrorist groups’ purposes for the assistance (acts of international terrorism, which are particularly heinous acts), and yet continued to provide that assistance.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray that this Court:

- (a) Accept jurisdiction over this action;
- (b) Enter judgment against PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK and in favor of Plaintiffs for compensatory damages in amounts to be determined at trial;
- (c) Enter judgment against PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK and in favor of Plaintiffs for treble damages pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a);
- (d) Enter judgment against PALESTINE INVESTMENT BANK and in favor of Plaintiffs for any and all costs sustained in connection with the prosecution of this action, including attorneys’ fees, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a); and
- (e) Grant such other and further relief as justice requires.

To Whom It May Concern

This is to confirm that pursuant to memorandum No. 2, dated 21/12/1995 the Palestine Investment Bank maintains a clearinghouse account with the Palestine Monetary Authority ("PMA") for the purpose to settlement of checks and payments. According, all checks and payments processed by the Bank's branches operating in the Palestinian Territories cleared through the PMA's clearinghouse accounts.

We operate in four currencies. For effecting daily settlements, we receive and remit payments to the clearinghouse account of the PMA which is administered by the Palestine International Bank ("PIB"). PIB executes US Dollar transfer through its correspondent, the Bank of New York ("Bony").

Between May 16 and 18, 2005, the PMA in its clearinghouse operations processed checks and payments which resulted in a net credit to our bank of 649,990.00 US Dollars. Accordingly, our bank was entitled to the payment of 649,990.00 from the PMA clearinghouse account.

On or about May 19th, 2005, we were made aware by the PMA that the transfer of the sum of 649,990.000 US dollars to be credited to our account with our own correspondent bank Arab Jordan Investment Bank had been blocked by BONY.

This is to conform that transfer order conveyed by PIB to Bony as stated above concern funds belonging exclusively and entirely to our bank and the transfer was being effected to facilitate normal banking transactions of our own clients.
