Consequently, pursuant to Executive Order 13224 of September 23, 2001, the property and interests in property of the subjects listed above and in the attached memorandum are determined to be subject to Executive Order 13224, and therefore to be subject to the prohibitions applicable under Executive Order 13224.

The President determined in section 10 of Executive Order 13224 (September 23, 2001) that because of the ability to transfer funds or assets instantaneously, prior notice to persons listed in the Annex to, or determined to be subject to, E.O. 13224 who might have a constitutional presence in the United States, would render ineffectual the blocking and other measures authorized in the Executive Order. Therefore, the President determined that no prior notification of a determination need be provided to any person who might have a constitutional presence in the United States. In making this determination pursuant to section 1 of the Executive Order, I also find that no prior notice should be afforded the subjects of this determination because to do so would give the subjects the opportunity to evade the measures described in Executive Order 13224 and, consequently, render those measures ineffectual toward addressing the national emergency declared in that Executive Order. Accordingly, I direct that appropriate notice be provided of this designation after this determination becomes effective.

In consequence whereof, as of the effective date of this designation, all property and interests in property of the subjects identified above and in the attached memorandum, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, including but not limited to all accounts in which the above-named subjects have any interest, are blocked, and may not be transferred, paid, exported,

Marzouk was previously designated and, therefore, is already subject to sanctions pursuant to E.O. 12947 of January 3, 1995 ("Prohibiting Transactions with Terrorists Who Threaten the Middle East Peace Process"). He is being designated pursuant to E.O. 13224 based on his continued support for terrorism.

withdrawn, or otherwise dealt in; and all transactions involving the subjects named above and U.S. persons, wherever located, or from the United States, are prohibited, unless licensed by the Office of Foreign Assets Control.
